

A Message From Your President

Pam Dinwiddie | President

Thank you so much for your vote of confidence to lead our chapter! I'm very excited, even though the new role has me working a little outside my comfort zone. I'm certainly thankful for the opportunity, and I trust you will help keep me accountable to the high standards we've all worked so hard to build in our chapter. We live and work in a fast-paced environment and are all being pulled in so many directions.

We are blessed to have an organization like EWI where we can come together to build each other up, discuss issues that we face, help our community by volunteering, and develop our professional and personal goals.

Our theme for this year is based on the three R's - Rewarding, Relationships and Respect. These tie very closely to EWI Corporate's three C's of Careers, Connections and Community.

- Careers are Rewarding and as such, EWI of Wichita is the perfect vehicle to help you reach your career goals.
- Connections are Relationships that we have with each other as executive women.
- Community is the Respect that we pride ourselves in giving back to our community and respecting those we serve.

Ladies, EWI has been feeding my soul and building me up professionally for years. I have every confidence it will do the same for you!

All my best,
Pam

HELLO LADIES! WOW! What an AWESOME start to this new EWI YEAR with the start of LCAM this past month. I was honored to attend with some AMAZING women! Something I took from LCAM that will stay with me FOREVER is, "Your EWI WHY"?

Remember what made you become a member of EWI and more importantly, what has helped you stay a member of EWI. My EWI Why is this: "Oftentimes in business and life, we get used to the FAST PACED way we live and work. EWI offers me time to STOP RUSHING and to take time to get to know AMAZING WOMEN of business in my community. It helps me to connect with other women and to learn from their life experiences. To be able to build lifelong friendships that not only help develop me as a person but also help me to network and grow my business has been instrumental to me these past few years. One question I would like to ask everyone in EWI this year is, WHAT CAN I DO TO HELP YOU? Please feel free to email me at kristina@westernassociates.com or call me 316.712.3053 anytime you have a need or just need someone to talk to. My goal is to be a servant to others this year and to help lead by serving you. Another reason I LOVE EWI is how we serve the men, women, and children of our community, touching others' lives that otherwise might not be given the opportunity is HUGE TO ME. I have always lived my life by the rule that if I can help bring a smile to just one person's face each day, then I consider that a WIN for the day. We never know what someone is going through in life, we never know their struggles both professionally and personally. Let's look to 2019-2020 as a year of grace, compassion and growth for our AMAZING CHAPTER. Thank you for joining us on this journey for EWI Wichita 2019-2020! We are EXCITED FOR AN EPIC YEAR!

It is that time of year to start gearing up for the Colvin Elementary Food Drive. We want to make this year a HUGE SUCCESS and need your member firm's help. Please help us by asking your member firms to donate to this AMAZING CAUSE! I am taking cash/gift card donations and will help to shop for items needed before our event. If your company would like to make a donation, please email me and let me know. I will arrange to get the donation from you. I will look into the list with Pam and get needs out to everyone ASAP. If you can help send an email out to your businesses or place a note in your lounge to help create buzz around our food drive this year, that would be AWESOME! Let's blow this year out of the water! Thank you so much for your help in making this year a huge SUCCESS! Thank you, Kristina

Let's talk about the 72nd Leadership Conference & Annual Meeting (LCAM) in Milwaukee, WI on September 18 – 21, 2019. Five of our chapter representatives attended which were myself (Pam) along with Kristina Helm, incoming Vice President, Jessica Emrick Davies, Advisor, Davna Gould and Gina Hess. Our EWI Corporate Board along with the LCAM committee pulled together a great venue with Academy of Leadership (AOL) sessions, a local reading rally, keynote speakers, professional development breakout sessions, a beach party and end with our annual meeting. So much wrapped up in four days! If you have the chance to attend LCAM you should take advantage of it. The professional development alone is worth the money to send you.

The Reading Rally took place on Wednesday morning with us reading to the Next Door Foundation children. If you haven't had a chance to sit with a child in his or her classroom and watch their eyes light up as you read a book to them, then you are definitely missing out. It's one of the highlights of LCAM. The kiddos were each given the featured book Ivy Grace and the Birthday Monster. The Reading Rally organizers had the author, Jamie Vacho Knisbeck, read the book to the children and the Illustrator, Charlie Christman, had fun asking the kids to tell him parts of animals and he made a monster cartoon based on what they told him. EWI chapters made a huge impact on this school by donating 2250 new books, 956 sling backpacks, and over $3,600 worth of volunteer hours to the school for Reading Rally 2019!

Wednesday afternoon, Kristina and I attended the Leadership Caucus where our Corporate President, Felicia J. Senter, presented her theme of Empower, Engage, Inspire. Her action plan is membership, cohesive teams, road map to leadership, networking, and mentors. Cortney Ihde, Corporate EWI executive assistant, talked to us about Growth Zone and asked that every chapter member log in and update their profile. Also, they are introducing Higher Logic, which is like the old My EWI page. It should be ready to launch around November 1 for the first phase. The second phase will have mentor matching discussion pages and a mobile app for your cell phone.

Thursday morning was our keynote speaker, Karen McCullough, talking about how change is good, and then on Friday morning, she spoke on how to lead and succeed in a multigenerational world. She was so energetic and downright funny. The whole room had their heads nodding in agreement on some of the points she brought up. Some of the things I wrote down were our hidden self is the learning self, our blind self needs to change, and our unknown self evolves daily. We must be open to change and all the good that it brings about. She also relayed that gratitude and emotional support needs to become a daily ritual. Karen said that our conference was one of the best she has participated in over the year. She has a YouTube channel so you should check her out:

https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCPw6aLV5KU4OcKp9ysGx5ZA?view_as=subscriber

Thursday after the keynote speaker, we broke out into the AOL sessions. Lori Giovannoni, affectionately known as Lori G, put on another attention-grabbing Lessons in Leadership. She said to lead means to guide into the unknown. Outstanding leaders come from quality. One equal human being is equal to all her representatives regardless of title. Your success is my reward!

She conducted an exercise in introverts and extroverts. Myths about introverts are that they are shy, don't like to talk, rude or aloof, prefer being alone and that they don't want to be an extrovert. Actually, Introverts are motivated to succeed. Instead of recognition, an introverted leader gains more satisfaction from maintaining the team's productivity and high-quality work. They value relationships because they are motivated by quality and productivity, they can seem disconnected from other people or a bit hesitant to build relationships. However, the relationships the introvert builds are driven by a different set of priorities.

Myths about extroverts are they are great orators, natural leaders, they lack introspection, are self-absorbed and don't value other's opinions as much as their own. Extroverts are comfortable with people and can take the mantle of leadership with ease. They are quick decision makers. Most extroverts find it relatively easy to make such decisions with little delay. Extroverts have the cultural advantage of being viewed as an effective leader by virtue of their personality. Extroverts use passion as a leadership tool.

Lori G's class filled a book, so I won't elaborate more than what I have but she did recommend several books:

- Quiet: The Power of Introverts in a World That Can't Stop Talking by Susan Cain
- Winning Minds: Secrets from the Language of Leadership by Simon Lancaster
- Conversational Intelligence: How Great Leaders Build Trust and Get Extraordinary Results by Judith E. Glaser
- The Charisma Myth: How Anyone Can Master the Art and Science of Personal Magnetism by Olivia Fox Cabane

And she suggested a couple of TED Talks which you can find on www.ted.com:

- Ron Gutman: The Hidden power of smiling
- Bill Holmes: The Power of Why
- Simon Sinek: How great leaders inspire action

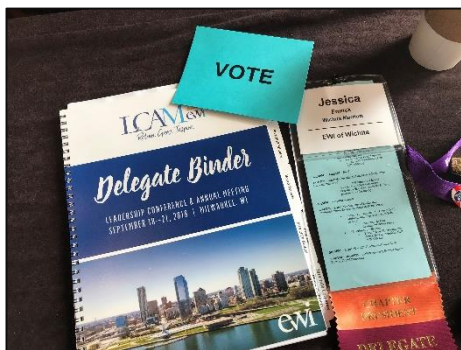

Also on Thursday was Kristi Emmons Jones on Emotional Intelligence; unfortunately, we all ended up going into Lori G's session.

Friday was packed with professional development breakout sessions. Lots of great ideas on fundraising like golf tournaments, wine or whiskey tastings, raffles, food punch cards, women's conference, etc. Felicia Senter talked about programs. She said we need to make it worth our chapter representatives giving up either their evening or lunch time to attend a chapter meeting. I couldn't agree more! Her session was cut short due to time running out, but she suggested cocktails and canvas with an artist. I have emailed Felicia to see if I can get her slides on possible program ideas.

We participated in a team building activity later in the day on Friday which featured the Drum Café. They had us pounding on the drums in a rhythm that was so energizing. We had to work together and produce a wonderful sound that only we could make. Team building at its finest!!

Afterwards, we had a Town Hall meeting where the Member Zone, Higher Logic and Growth Zone slides were shown by Cortney Ihde. I will send out an email with the slides soon!

Saturday was our Annual Meeting where the new corporate board was installed. We approved the corporate budget which passed unanimously.

EWI Wichita Installation of Officers – September 2019

Chapter Events – October Chapter Meeting

EWI of Wichita - Wednesday, October 16th Ulrich Museum of Art

Wichita State University, 1845 N. Fairmount

5:30pm-7:30pm - Beer, Wine & Hors d'oeuvres Reception

Leslie Brothers, Director

Leslie Brothers is the Director of the Ulrich Museum of Art where she has launched a new vision for the institution “the future now at the Ulrich.” Programing includes a series of exhibitions entitled Solving for X, visualizations of campus research and “FUN” pecha kucha style presentations of scholarship across campus. Her focus is on connecting the Ulrich more directly to academic programs and research across campus in ways that invite and include community.

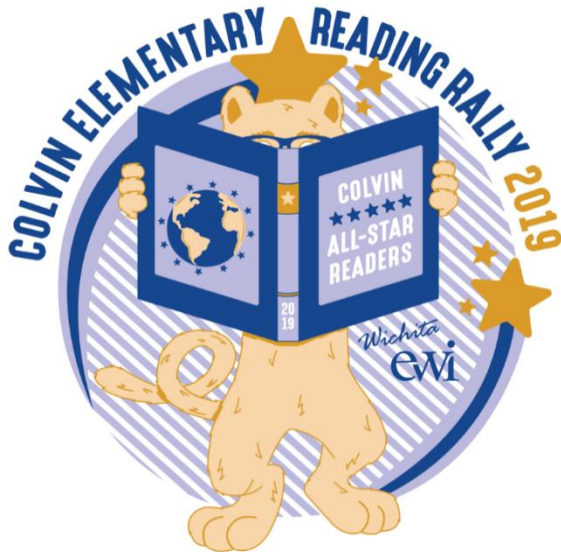

She was formerly the Director for 17 years of the McDonough Museum of Art, Youngstown State University's Center for Contemporary Art in Youngstown, Ohio. Leslie also served as an Adjunct Professor in the Department of Art teaching courses in contemporary art, theory, and in the potential for artists to affect change in society. She received her master's degree in Art History and Contemporary Criticism from Virginia Commonwealth University graduating with honors. She has a Bachelor of Arts Degree from the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee where she majored in Art History and French. In addition, she received an honors degree in Women's Studies. Leslie is a museum professional who has worked in large municipal museums such as the Brooklyn Museum, the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts and the Milwaukee Art Museum, as well as University Museums and Galleries.

For Leslie, collaboration is part of the creative process. Her area of expertise is Contemporary Art and Culture and her research is based in rethinking the University Art Museum as a research center for understanding consciousness and human experience through the arts. Over the past 30 years, she has published exhibition catalogues, articles and reviews; she has organized over 60 exhibitions and created community-based programs that address the value of diversity, inclusion, equity and social justice, essential to maintaining relevance in the arts.

In 2014, she participated in TEDxYoungstown. Her talk can be found on YouTube, “Mattering is Key to Innovation in the University Art Museum.” In 2017, she co-authored an NEA Our Town Grant funded at $200,000 to commission 5 placemaking projects for the city of Youngstown.

She will speak on opportunities for things to happen at the museum that haven't really happened before and will demonstrate how a museum could matter at a university that has established innovation as their mode of operation. There are some exciting changes coming to the Ulrich Museum! Join us as we hear more about her vision for the future and accomplishments in the past year as the new Director.
